

The ACIL Conference Proceedings Publication Portal

We use an online publishing portal for all our conference proceedings and journals. Papers uploaded to the portal are automatically submitted for indexing with various bodies, a DOI for articles is automatically assigned and authors can attach their Orcid ID to their paper.

The conference proceedings are available to search by individual papers and the full text can also be downloaded as a pdf. ISBNs and ISSNs are assigned in the usual way.

It is important that authors follow some simple guidelines when uploading papers to maximise the benefits of publishing in this way. Please read and follow the points below. If you subsequently notice missing or incorrect information due to errors made during the upload you can usually correct them yourself up until the point of publication. Thereafter no changes can be made by authors. If you notice an error after publication that is not due to any action taken by us, the publisher, we will charge an administration fee of £25 to make post publication corrections.

1. If this is the first time you have uploaded a paper to the system, you will need to Register first. This requires a user name and password (usernames should NOT be email addresses and cannot include any special characters). You will be sent an email asking you to confirm your details before you have access to the system. Check your spam folder if you do not see this in your inbox.
2. Once registered you can log-in at any time with the username and password you set up when you registered.
3. Clicking on the Submit button takes you into the system and you will be prompted to fill in information about the paper and the authors.
 - a. Select the type of paper you are uploading from the drop-down box (Academic, PhD, Masters, WIP or Non-Academic,).
 - b. Read and tick the boxes to comply with the submission requirements.
 - c. In the case of conference proceedings, it is unlikely you will have comments for the editor.
 - d. Once complete, click Save and Continue to move to the next section.
 - e. Click Add File from which you can browse your computer and select the file to upload
 - f. Important: Make sure you are using the final, checked paper sent to you by the paper processing manager and do not change the filename. Once the file is upload select Save and Continue.
 - g. Copy the title and the abstract from the Word file into the appropriate places – we prefer the online abstract to be one paragraph, so please remove any paragraph breaks and ensure titles and author names are NOT in all caps.
 - h. The Prefix and Sub-title fields are not necessary to use.
 - i. The person submitting will automatically be added as an author, but you need to add all the other co-authors in your paper by selecting Add Contributor.
 - j. Enter the Given and Family name (leave the Preferred Public Name blank). Enter the email address for the contributor and the university name, town and country in the Affiliation field. A short, 50-word author bio can be entered here as well. Tick author as the contributor role and if an Orcid ID is required tick the box, which will send the contributor an email to confirm the Orcid information.
 - k. Click the Save button and make sure you repeat this process for all co-authors.
 - l. Once all the authors are entered the final box asks for meta data - keywords/phrases. Important: These should be copied or typed in and ENTER is pressed between each word or phrase.

Once all the information has been entered clicking Finish and submit will submit the paper to the system and no further work should be required by authors.

Please note that your paper will only be published if you have paid the appropriate fee to attend the conference.
